THE SLEEPING BEAUTY STORY

The King and Queen have invited all the Fairies of the land to the christening of their daughter, Princess Aurora. Carabosse, the Fairy of Jealousy, has been forgotten and in her rage, curses Aurora to die from a prick of the finger. The Lilac Fairy says Aurora will not die but go to sleep, to be awakened after 100 years by a Prince's kiss. On Aurora's sixteenth birthday, she receives a flower from Carabosse, who is disguised as an old shrew. Aurora dances with the flower joyously, until she suddenly pricks her finger on a spindle that was hidden in the flower. Aurora falls lifeless and seems to die, but the Lilac Fairy appears and says she is only asleep. Then, sending the whole court to sleep, the Lilac Fairy conjures up a forest to conceal them.

A hundred years later, Prince Florimund is leading a hunting party through the forest, when the Lilac Fairy appears and shows the Prince a vision of Aurora. Hoping to find his true love, the Prince goes with the Lilac Fairy to the palace where Aurora is sleeping. The Prince wakes Aurora with a kiss. The spell is broken... and their wedding is duly celebrated!
