CHARLOTTE BALLET 2019/2020 SEASON

Charlotte Ballet dancers exhibit a delicate balance of stunning athleticism and breathtaking beauty. This season we continue to challenge perceptions and push boundaries in both classical ballet and cutting-edge contemporary dance. Join us as a subscriber for another powerful season with Charlotte Ballet.

LEONCE AND LENA

October 24-26, 2019 | Knight Theater

Christian Spuck, Artistic Director for Ballet Zürich, brings to life this 19th century satirical romantic comedy by German author Georg Büchner. A classic tale of defiant love, the ballet tells the story of Leonce, Prince of Popo, and Lena, Princess of Pipi, who have been promised to one another since birth but have never met. Casting aside conventions of the day, they both flee on the eve of their wedding only to meet as strangers and fall in love. This highly theatrical production has been praised for Spuck's ability to "create pas de deux both lyrical and comic."

NUTCRACKER

December 6-23, 2019 | Belk Theater

Presented by: Bank of America

Experience the wonder and joy of the holidays at Charlotte Ballet's Nutcracker! Clara's classic tale comes to life with the treasured music of Tchaikovsky performed live by Charlotte Symphony and choreography by Jean-Pierre Bonnefoux. Join the Sugar Plum Fairy on a fantastical journey through the Land of Sweets in this beloved family tradition!

INNOVATIVE WORKS: BEYOND THE MINT

January 24-February 15, 2020 | Center for Dance

Artistic Director Hope Muir introduces two exciting new choreographers to Charlotte; choreographer Duane Cyrus and Resident Choreographer of The Nashville Ballet Christopher Stuart will embark on creations for the company inspired by The Mint Museum's upcoming exhibition "Immersed in Light: Studio Drift at the Mint." And for the first time, a Charlotte Ballet artist from our very own Choreographic Lab will be commissioned and added to the program.

SLEEPING BEAUTY A Fairy-Tailored Classic

March 13-22, 2020 | Knight Theater

One of the world's most popular classical ballets, tailored to engage today's audiences by acclaimed British choreographer Matthew Hart. Artistic Director Hope Muir returns to the stage as Narrator in this condensed version that stays true to its beloved, classical choreography—complete with glittering tutus and dazzling tiaras. Set to Tchaikovsky's quintessential score, this gorgeous tale of Princess Aurora, the Lilac Fairy, and the royal court is perfect for the entire family.

SPRING WORKS: FROM CLT TO NYC

April 23-25, 2020 | Knight Theater

Spring Works offers a powerhouse repertoire that is unmatched in its boldness and artistry. Following its run in Charlotte, elements of Spring Works will be showcased at the iconic Joyce Theater in Manhattan. Expect to see the company revisiting Charlotte favorites and introducing new works from highly sought-after international choreographers.

CHOREOGRAPHIC LAB Special Subscriber Add-On

May 14-23, 2020 | Center for Dance

Returning for its third season, this up-close and informal performance is quickly becoming a favorite among Charlotte Ballet audiences. Experience new and emerging talent from within the company and the Charlotte dance community.

Programming subject to change.*
